

A REASON FOR THANKS.
(From the Charleston News and Courier.)
Hand a verbal wallop to the fellow who complains about meatless days. He ought to be thankful that we aren't saving meatless days.

Happy Bride.
(From the Buffalo Courier.)
The groom—Why so sad, sweetheart? The bride—I was just thinking how miserable I'd be, Jack, if I had never met you.

"Seein' Things At Night"

TO MOTHERS! Guard your kiddies against torpid liver, sour stomach, constipated bowels which generate poisons. These "inside" poisons circulate to the brain, producing bad dreams, then a feverish head. Unless you "work" out these poisons you will have a real sick youngster shortly. Cascarets are a candy cathartic, ideal for children. Cost only 10 cents a box. Read below!

Children love Cascarets because they taste like candy. When your child has a white tongue, feverish breath, foul stomach, give Cascarets anytime to "work" the nasty bile, souring food and bowel poison from the clogged-up places. You needn't coax even cross, sick children to take these harmless candy "Cascarets." They never gripe—never injure. Cascarets never disappoint the worried mother. Each 10 cent box contains directions and dose for children aged one year old and upwards.—Advt.

Marguerite Sylva's Stunning Carmen; Riccardo Martin Back

By Splester Rawling.

MARGUERITE SYLVA impersonated Carmen last night for the 16th time in her operatic stage career. The performance of Bizet's opera, in which she reached the imposing score, took place at the Park Theatre under the auspices of the Society of American Singers. It proved to be the most impressive of the society's offerings. It was acclaimed by a crowded audience. Mrs. Sylva's sassy cigarette girl is become a classic. As Calve's Carmen stood in the estimation of a previous generation so Sylva's Carmen stands to this. Her conception of the character, worked out to the smallest detail, seemed spontaneous. The subtlety of seductiveness, the torrent of passion and the forgetfulness of it when its course is run, the gall of jealousy, and the tigerish cruelty of the woman all found expression in a composite picture. Her voice responded to the infinite variety of her emotions. But, dear Mrs. Sylva, how could Carmen, associated only with brigands and soldiers, acquire that priceless shawl that you wore in Lillia Pastia's Inn? Keep Carmen to her muttons, please! Riccardo Martin, long a stranger to us, was warmly welcomed as Don Jose. He was a picturesque figure, commanding in action, singing too strictly as is his wont, especially in the flower song, but carrying conviction. It was a shock, because Mr. Martin is an artist, to see him rise from the feet of Carmen, after the flower song, and bow in acknowledgment of the applause. Why not, Ruth Miller, taking the place of Bianca Saroya, who was announced as Micaela, sang, acted and looked the part admirably. Her song, "Heavenly Love," was a dashing Eucumilio. He acted the famous Toreador song better than he sang it. Blanche de Costa and Florence Mulford were Fraquita and Mercedes, and the cast included Franklin Fiker, Walter Greene, Howard White and Harvey Wilson. The incidental dances were by Edward and Laurka Kurylo. Once more it is necessary to call the attention of Mr. Hinchaw to the importance of more rehearsals if the organization of which he is president is to make a lasting impression. Mr. Hinchaw, who conducted last night, must have been at his wit's end, sometimes, as the chorus lagged behind or galloped away from him. And that chorus is intelligent. It needs only a master hand to train it. Why not, Mr. Hinchaw, borrow Emilio Selti from Mr. Gatti for two or three hours a day? And, please Mr. Hinchaw, get an extra back drop. It was disappointing to see Lillia Pastia's Inn fronting the square in Seville.

"The Barber of Seville" was sung by the San Carlo Grand Opera Company at the Theatre Theatre last night, and a competent cast pleased a large audience. Queena Mario sang Rosina well, and her impersonation was all the more appreciated because of her difficult role of the night before. Joseph Royer was Figaro, Roscacci was Almaviva, Cervi was Bartolo and de Biasi was Basilio. Alice Homer and Luciano Rosati rounded out the cast.

MRS. JAMES R. KEENE LEFT AN ESTATE OF $1,790,948

Appraiser's Report Shows Foxhall P. Keene, Son, Gets $837,212—Daughter and Others Share.

Sara R. Keene, widow of James R. Keene, left an estate of $1,790,948.15, according to a transfer tax appraisal filed in the Surrogate's office at Manhattan, L. I., today by James N. Gehrig, transfer tax appraiser. The net estate, after payment of $11,597,927.19, after $92,000 in debts and expenses were deducted. Mrs. Keene inherited $1,728,611.75 from her husband, who died on Jan. 3, 1912. To her son, Foxhall P. Keene, Mrs. Keene willed one-half of her estate. The legacy is valued in appraisal at $837,212.25. The trust estate, which Mrs. Keene left to her daughter, Jessica Taylor, is valued at $307,586. A remainder interest which is credited to four grandchildren shows that each grandchild will receive $52,332.14. Among the assets of the estate are 300 shares of Western Union Telephone stock, valued at $40 a share. Among the personal assets are a number of cups and other mementos won by race horses of James R. Keene.

GIRL CARRIES AIR MAIL

Miss Etison Makes Trip From Washington to Belmont Park. Miss Catherine Etison began service as an air mail carrier yesterday by flying from Washington to Belmont Park with about 150 pounds of mail. She and Pilot De Hart left Washington at 11:26 A. M., carrying between them 200 pounds of mail, a new record for air mail service between the two cities. He landed at 2:35, and she one minute later. Lieut. C. P. Culver brought a new plane from Washington to Belmont Park in what was believed to be the fastest time on record yesterday. It was only 25 minutes coming from Philadelphia, and said he took only one hour in reaching Philadelphia from Washington.
